(Please contact me the week before class.)

In this creative and informative class, Joan Wykis will show and assist students from the beginning to the end of painting a vibrant fresh and rich looking watercolor Batik on Rice paper. It is a process using an electric skillet, special rice papers, watercolors, canning wax and an iron. The information in this course is a combination of design, line color and reserving whites and lights. The technical information shared begins with transferring a drawing onto the rice paper and keeping the process manageable

Materials provided by instructor included at no cost to participants: waterproof pens, foam boards, inks and adhesives (Waterproof pens are only on loan for duration of class)

Students will be charged at cost for an 18 X 18 Canvas.

Materials from PARTICIPANTS

- Paper for drawing, pencil (#2), eraser
- Your regular watercolors and brushes
- Old throwaway brushes for applying wax
- Paper towels/ clean cloth towel or rag
- Newspapers (Sunday edition probably enough)
- Masking Tape, scissors, rulers, water buckets

Optional: assorted colored waterproof Pitt pens. I will have plenty, but feel free to bring more. (Bring the colors you tend to love.)

Reference Material

You will work from your own photos or images. Please keep in mind that a composition with simple design is best. One animal, a simple group of flowers or a figurative drawing with just one person would be best.
